About Me and What I Love to Do

I have always been known to myself as quite curious and wanting to give a try at everything. Somehow the most charming thing of all to me, happened to be the idea of designing things; everything concerned with the creative side of creating things.

I have chosen to study mathematics and computer science for my Bachelor's Degree in Applied Sciences, and unsurprisingly, I showed the greatest interest in the Web Design module. Partly so because it's been a hobby for me to learn frontend web design since I was quite young, and already having a strong grasp on the basics.

My goal is to work as a Frontend Developer or a UI Designer, at a place where I can have creative freedom as well as clear-cut ideals on what the end product should be at the same time.
